

FICTION FOCUS REVIEWER PROFILE

Fiction Focus, published four times a year by WestOne Services for the Department of Education, is a journal which reviews current fiction for teenagers. It is distributed free of charge to all public secondary and district high schools in WA and is also available on subscription.

The reviews in Fiction Focus are written by a network of reviewers who are teachers and/or librarians (or experts in children's/YA literature) from schools, libraries, central office and other educational institutions.

Reviewers receive a complimentary copy of any of the items they review for the journal, plus a copy of each issue of Fiction Focus.

OTHER RELEVANT POINTS TO ADD TO YOUR PROFILE

For example you may have teenage children and would like books to share with them; you may be interested in fiction for reluctant male readers or have a special focus in your literature program. We do not promise to fulfil all of your requests but it is often useful to know these things when we are allocating books.

I give CMIS Evaluation and Fiction Focus permission to modify, copy and publish my reviews and extracts from my reviews as they see fit with no financial or other consideration. I am aware that CMIS Evaluation may choose not to publish a review that I provide to them. Reviews supplied to Fiction Focus are intended for publication in Fiction Focus and on the CMIS Resource Bank. I am aware that shortened versions of some reviews will be used for the Primary Focus publication in which reviewer's names do not accompany their reviews. CMIS Evaluation accept no responsibility for any errors in published reviews.
