

Teachers and teaching

Guidelines & Indicators	Current Situation	Action Required
Teachers and Tls plan, teach & evaluate curriculum programs cooperatively to ensure the appropriate information resources & technologies support the development of student information skills
Time is allocated within the timetable for teachers to work cooperatively with the RT in the development of resource-based units of work
Time is provided for teachers to preview curriculum resources with the RT ensuring the integration of information resources & technologies support the development of students' information skills
Training opportunities are available for teachers and the RT in the latest information & telecommunications technologies and their use in the curriculum context
Teachers receive assistance and guidance in using information technologies to locate & retrieve information and in developing skills needed to use the LRC's systems, services & equipment
Professional support materials which are provided for teachers which include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ➤ Curriculum statements ➤ Educational documents ➤ Professional & curriculum periodicals ➤ Research information ➤ Professional development & training videos
Teachers are provided with reference & inquiry services to support the curriculum
Teachers have access to recent & relevant curriculum resources, in particular those in areas of curriculum innovation & change
Information is provided about resources particularly suited to students' personal development as readers, viewers & listeners
The RT participates in collegiate networks which provide access to a wider range of professional information & expertise
New teaching staff are introduced to the school's professional information services as part of their orientation training		